02/15/25 10:26:30 - Neff, Matt - All Call - Ashley advised her and her baby daddy have been fighting again and the court will not gave Ashley her kid back. She wanted to know if she could press charges again on him from an incident that took place back in 2016. After reading the report, Ashley took back her statement and said nothing happened and didn't want charges. She said she lied because she didn't want him to get in trouble. She was told the statute of limitation has expired and we couldn't do anything at this time. She also wanted to report Jason has been using her "credit" and she was told she had to call her sheriffs office. She thinks Holmes County is corrupt and will not speak to them.

He explained the baby was also not acting right and thinks something might be happening in the house. I went to the residence and spoke to Audrey about the incident. She said Miles was playing on some boxes and fell onto a concrete block. This caused him to have some scrapes on his chin and cheek. We looked at the baby and the marks appeared to be from a fall. we looked over the baby and didn't notice any other marks. No signs of child abuse were observed.
